Investment Thesis

Thesis Point 1: NWL's restructuring initiatives are streamlining a fragmented operating model, leading to gains in efficiency and working capital management.

Consolidated Supply Chain

- NWL has merged 23 independent supply chains onto 1 central network, allowing for customers to order across different brands in one space and reducing the suppliers needed.
- Production has shifted to 57% of products made domestically, with Chinese production declining from 35% to 10%. A global network of 42 plants allow for production flexibility.
- A new ERP system covering 95%, up from 35%, of the business will be completed by Fall 2026 to integrate supply chain with retailers and implement AI across the enterprise.

Inventory Management

- SKUs dropped 80% to 20k units, cutting out 50% of SKUs that were 2% of sales.
- E&O inventory has declined by 50%, reducing products that never get sold.
- Production lead time has dropped by 10 days, slimming required inventory held.

Distribution Gains

- International distributors are down 40%, leading to fewer moving pieces.
- Suppliers have reduced 25% since 2022, simplifying the ordering process.
- Order fill rate of 96% for FY25 was achieved as a result, highest since 2016.

Thesis Point 1: Margins have runway for growth beyond the realized restructuring gains.

Pre-restructuring, NWL was worst in class for capability set among competitors.

	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026E	2027E	2028E
Gross Margin	31.1%	30.0%	28.9%	33.6%	33.8%	34.1%	34.2%	34.4%

Management has set a normalized GM of 37-38% and Normalized OM of 12-15% post-restructuring, driven through operating efficiencies and reduced overhead expenses.

Thesis Point 2: NWL will accelerate their deleveraging as FCF and revenue prove to be an inflection point in FY25 and are expected to rebound through FY28.

Inflection in Sales driven by Innovation

- NWL is scheduled to launch 25 Tier 1 products in FY26, up from 17 in 2025 and 8 in 2024.
- New launches are boosted by core products hitting their “replacement window” across all segments as products complete their lifecycle.
- 2026 is expected to be the first positive shelf distribution year since 2016 for NWL brands.

Improved Liquidity through FCF & EBITDA

- FCF is expected to recover through improvements in working capital and sales.
- S&P upgraded NWL’s liquidity profile to SGL-3 on Nov. 25 to show adequate liquidity and improving conditions.
- EBITDA margin expected sustain growth, accelerating the deleveraging process.

Increasing revenues across segments should drive adjusted EBITDA margins towards 12% with leverage expected to decline to 4.3x.

Risks and Mitigants

Risks

Mitigants

Decline in Consumer Spending
Stunts Recovery

NWL's "good/better/best" product tiering hedges declines in spending as consumers across all income levels have access to affordable options.

Product Launches
Fail, Diluting
Margins

NWL's tiered innovation system concentrates spending on their highest conviction bets, with 70% of Tier 1 products meeting or beating expectations since 2023.

Refinancing Raises
Interest Costs on Unfavorable Terms

NWL's 2Q25 debt issuance of $1.25B was 4x oversubscribed, signaling strong creditor demand that positions NWL to refinance at competitive rates.
